We do not mean that any work which the general good requires | Editors Intelligencer: to be done ought to be crippled for want of funds so long as the expenditure will not inflict greater injury than the suspension of the work. We would not, especially, be willing to see anything done to cripple the efficiercy of our public schools, for they are the most valuable of all our public institutions. But it is reaccely necessary to remind the taxpayers of this city, who have never been bled so deeply as during the past year, how heavy are the finan cial burdens they are now carrying. If there are any superflaities in the machinery of our local governmen! they will agree with us in saying these ought to be cut off. "Useless officers" are a luxury not to be afforded in this tax ridden city. A very large proportion of our citizens believe this Superintendency is what one of our correspondents recently called it, a "fifth wheel." They think it could be dispensed with altogether without any practical injury to the schools. We do not feel quite clear about this; but the prevalence of this opinion is something that ought to be respected. Care should

As a soldier, no one can be presented from our State with a better record— never flinching in the field, or on the march—equal to any emergency; tooked up to by his men, and always ready to sacrifice everything upon the altar of his country. In his standing as a citizen, he is equal to any; has filled positions of honor and trust in his state. positions of honor and trust in his state, and had experience in its councils. If he is not noted as an orator, this is a virtue which some of our best soldiers have. Yet we find him as competent here, and as experienced, as some of our non-soldier candidates who are in
